AYER'S Ague Cure, when used according to directions, is warranted to eradicate from the system all forms of malarial disease, such as fever and ague, chill fever, intermittent, remittent and bilious fevers, and disorders of the liver. Try it. The experiment is a safe one, and will cost you nothing if a cure is not effected.

THE Congressional Convention. From parties who were at August yesterday afternoon we gather the following information as to the proceedings of the convention, which met there yesterday to nominate a candidate for Congress.

They assembled in the skating rink, and were called to order at noon by Hon. Emory Whitaker. W. L. Gibson, of Nicholas, and W. J. Hendrick, of Fleming, were placed in nomination. The opposition to Judge Wall supported the latter, and the fight was interesting and close. When it came to the vote of Mason County an attempt was made to prevent the delegation from having any voice in the temporary organization. Tom Wood and his gang who went down with the avowed intention of "doing up" Judge Wall were present, claiming that they were the only rightful delegates. Judge Whitaker, however, sat down on the scheme, and allowed the regular delegates from Mason their vote, and the ballot for temporary chairman resulted as follows: W. L. Gibson, (11); W. J. Hendrick, 40. Gibson was declared elected and took the chair.

Hon. T. D. Marcum, of the Catlettsburg Democrat, was next chosen temporary Secretary without opposition.

The next fight was made on the appointment of the committees. The Committee on credentials, was the all-important "bone of contention." Hon. Leslie Worthington moved that a committee of five each, on organization, resolutions and credentials be appointed by the chair. A substitute was offered by the opposition that said committees consist of one from each county, to be named by the delegations. A heated discussion followed, and after some time was consumed, we understand the substitute was agreed to.

All went well until Mason County was reached when the same old fight again occurred. The claim was made that her delegation was offered by the opposition that said committees consist of one from each county, to be named by the delegations. A heated discussion followed, and after some time was consumed, we understand the substitute was agreed to.

Chairman Gibson was ready to settle the matter as to the contest from this county then and there—that there was no contest in fact in this county, and the regular delegates could name their member of the committee on credentials. Judge Wall's friends, however, thought best to yield the question and submit the disputed point to the committee. The various committees were then selected, Mason County being left off the committee on credentials. The convention adjourned till 9 o'clock this morning.

Commonwealth's Attorney James H. Sallee returned from Augusta last night. When asked this morning about the outlook he said: "I think Judge Wall will win. I saw all the figuring that had been done and there's only one way by which he can be defeated, and that is to reach him out of the delegation from this county, and I believe Judge Savage and Mr. Bascom have too much sense to attempt any such thing as that."

The convention met this morning at 9 o'clock and adjourned till 1:30 p. m., the various committees not being ready to report.

THE Louisville Times correspondent, "Falcon," in a letter to his paper recently from the Blue Lick Springs pays the following handsome compliment to one of Mayville's fair citizens. He says:

"On the night of our arrival Mrs. Besse Miller Olen gave an eloquent entertainment, designed by a number of her pupils whom she had been teaching for the past three weeks. I do not take much stock in elocution as a general thing. It strikes me the more eloquent a fellow, the less he knows how to speak pleasantly and correctly. With the exception of Murdoch, whose art is the essence of simplicity and naturalness, I have generally found the professional elocutionist an enemy—a bitter foe, indeed to the sound and sense of what he was repeating. But I am bound to say this entertainment was in the nature of an agreeable surprise, especially Miss Maggie Turner, whose rendition of 'Monna's Water' was one of the finest things of the evening. Mrs. Olen herself struck me as being more of an actress than an elocutionist, and her character sketches were admirably done. Judging from her pupils' proficiency I should say she was an excellent teacher, but her own proper place is on the stage."

FOR some time I have been hearing of this lady, but never happened to hear her before until she has played several times in Lexington. It therefore gave me great pleasure to learn something of her in this way. She is evidently a hard-working, pains-taking, conscientious little woman who deserves well of the public, and ought to succeed, struggling to support herself and two young children; with, I have no doubt, many discouragements to contend against, as there always is in the dramatic profession. I trust that what I have here space to say of her will be of benefit."

Young—Fible.

Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock, Miss Bettie Garth Fible and Mr. Charles S. Young, of Chicago, formerly of Mayville, were married at the home of the bride by Rev. C. E. Crank. About thirty persons were present—near relatives and intimate friends. After supper the couple left for the East. Their future home will be in Chicago. The bride is a daughter of Mr. D. M. Fible.—Louisville Times.

THORALINE I have found to be just the thing for facial neuralgia and all other aches and pains about the head and face.—C. E. Allen, M. D., Roodhouse, Ills.

THE gloomy fears, desponding views, and weariness that many complain of, would disappear were the blood made pure and healthy before reaching the delicate vessels of the brain. Ayer's Sarsaparilla purifies and vitalizes the blood, thus promoting health of body and sanity of mind.

DR. SAWTELL's family of St. Bernard dogs, with Haverly's Minstrels, are the largest and handsomest dogs in the world and are well worth seeing. These dogs are the most intelligent of the canine race, and while the Professor does not pretend to give a trick performance in them, his part of the entertainment is always well received, especially by the ladies and children.

THE colored school opened Monday, and is in charge of Prof. C. G. Hargis. His assistants are Misses Maria J. Powers and Bettie Smith. There are eighty-nine pupils now in attendance, and this will probably be increased in a few days. The attendance last year was ninety-eight. Several pupils finished the common school course at that session, and we understand, have since entered Wayland Seminary at Washington City.

"The new State liquor license law goes into effect on the 14th instant, by which time license for the sale of spirits will be increased from $100 to $150, and malt liquors will be required to pay $50. Saloon-keepers whose licenses expire before the 14th can renew for a year under the old law. Under the new law pawnbrokers are required to pay a State license of $300, and every dealer who deals in deily weapons must take out a license for the privilege at a cost of $50."

Don't forget the lecture this evening at the Christian Church by Professor J. W. McGarvey. Those who have heard it speak of it in the very highest terms. The stereotyped views, accompanied by the comments of the Professor, will enable the auditor long to carry in his mind the scenes and sights of the Holy Land. Let the people of Mayville avail themselves of this opportunity to see and hear a good thing. Those who may not already have purchased tickets can obtain them at the door.

IT seems the government engineers must be rather slow in locating the new C. & O. bridge at Cincinnati. The Times Star says: "The large wooden caissons to be used in building the new railroad bridge piers which have been constructed at the foot of Main street will be floated down to the foot of Bakewell street, Covington, this week, and sunk near there. The bridge builders are awaiting the Government engineers to locate the bridge site, and as soon as they come work on the foundation will begin."

Excitement in Texas.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Tex., by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds. Trial bottles of this great discovery for consumption free at J. C. Peacor & Co's.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Rippon, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles and was cured of rheumatism of ten years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my twenty years' experience is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the liver, kidneys or blood. Only half a dollar a bottle at J. C. Peacor & Co's drug store.

Fall Fashions.

Gold and silver will play an important part in fall millinery.

An unusually heavy canvas coat is to be used very generally in the coming season. Railroad plush will be much worn as petticoats to accompany plain silk costumes in the fall.

Straw slippers plaited in many designs and beautifully lined are taking with those who want solid comfort as well as novelty in footgear.

The basque pointed in front, with a position back, little or no length over the hips, is worn for every sort of dress, from gingham to "cloth of gold."

The newest shopping bag has the portmanteau inside, the slit for handkerchiefs outside; strap to fasten in front, and a tiny pocketbook for change, car tickets, etc.

Some of the latest imported visiting dresses for young ladies are exceptionally elegant and stylish. Among them are gowns of Lyons satin in black and white, or in black alone, the satin very rich and heavy, quite unlike sarah satin so long favored.

There is still quite a furor for plaided fabrics, and their reign is likely to prove a longer one than was first prophesied. There are now in the Highland plaid, the marine plaid the Madras plaid, the forest plaid, and the fine block shepherds' plaid, Deep cardinal and emerald green, dark blue and white, or emerald green, and deep color, garnet and beige, and golden brown and new gold are the favorite combinations in stylish plaided gowns.
